

SLIDE PRESENTER

When telling your story to prospective investors and analysts, meeting face to face is often preferred, but not always feasible.

With Slide Presenter, you can take your prospects through your presentation online while speaking with them over the phone. Your guest simply clicks on a short internet link you've provided and sits back to watch as you take them through your presentation.

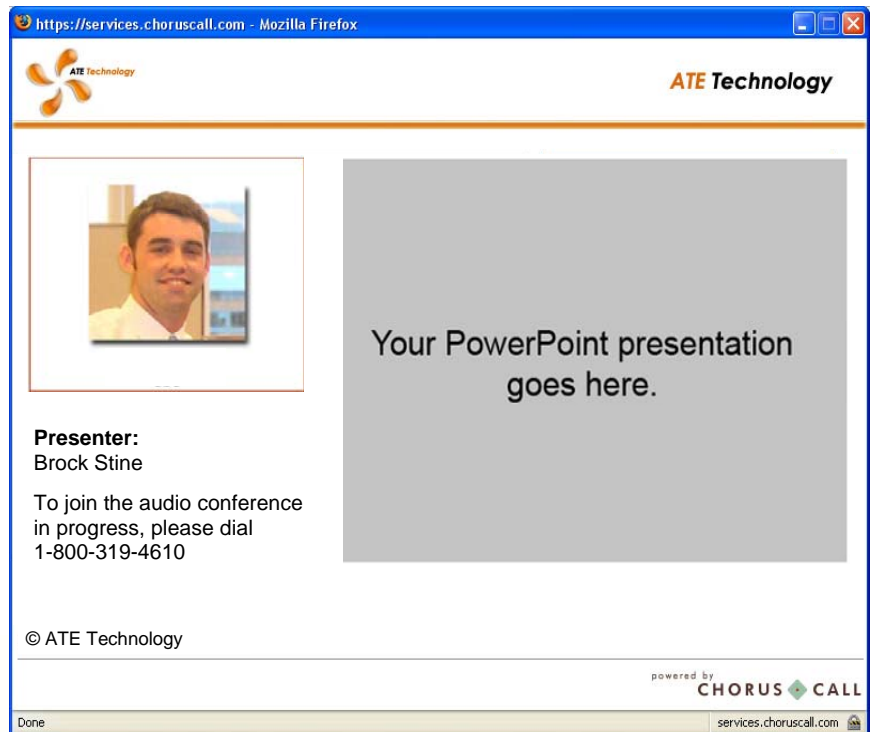

The link opens to an attractive frame, custom designed to reflect your corporate branding. You will advance the slides through an intuitive web-based interface. It's a private webcast – at a fraction of the cost!

Need to present to a larger group?
No problem. Simply circulate the link and the Chorus Call conference call details to your guests.

Slide Presenter allows you to deliver an effective presentation while accommodating time and/or budgetary constraints.

SIMPLICITY & SECURITY:

- ◆ Custom designed landing pages and slide presenter frames reflecting your branding
- ◆ Passcode protected viewer login available
- ◆ Optional registration to collect the details you require from your viewers
- ◆ Password protected account to manage your library of presentations and access to advance your slides for the meeting
- ◆ Live Feedback available for text submission of questions or comments
- ◆ Large slide view available for a closer look at detailed slides

PASSCODE CONFERENCING

AN EFFICIENT & AFFORDABLE WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

Whether you're pulling together the IR team for an internal meeting by phone or making a presentation to a potential investor on the other side of the world, you're likely using teleconferencing as an important tool to facilitate your work.

Chorus Call offers a variety of types of accounts to address various needs for people to come together by phone:

- ◆ Standard accounts with host and guest codes
- ◆ Accounts that prompt the host to code the call to assist with your internal record keeping
- ◆ Passcode Plus PIN accounts for the tightest security
- ◆ Auto-dial accounts that enable a host to initiate an automatic dial-out to a pre-determined group of people when an emergency meeting must be convened

All account holders enjoy access to an online interface which provides the latest in security and convenience features.

Chorus Call Canada's teleconferencing bridge is monitored around the clock during the business week by trained conference specialists. Callers simply press *0 on their touchtone phone to signal an operator for assistance. On weekends, a 24-hour help line provides access to a trained conference specialist.

VIDEO CONFERENCING

THE ULTIMATE ALTERNATIVE TO ROAD SHOWS

When meeting in person is not an option, you can still meet face to face. An increasing number of companies are opting to purchase their own video conference equipment, or using the services of conveniently located video conference meeting rooms.

Video conferencing has come a long way and Chorus Call's sister company Compunetix has been one of the driving forces as a leading manufacturer of video conferencing bridges.

Whether you're looking at video conferencing as a means to save time and money, or as part of your corporate commitment to environmentally sustainable business practices, Chorus Call is ready to assist.

VIDEO BRIDGING

If you are trying to convene a call and the video conferencing systems are not connecting successfully, enlisting the help of a video bridge may be the answer. Bridging is also the solution when connecting with more points than your system is able to join or including a caller on a regular phone. And when joining more than two points by IP, a video bridge will ensure a higher quality connection.

Chorus Call offers this service using a state of the art high definition video bridge.

ROOM RENTALS

Our video experts are adept at sourcing the closest video conference room to anywhere your business takes you. Simply tell us which locations you would like to connect and we will make the arrangements, including confirming the reservations, pre-testing and bridging the call if required.

EQUIPMENT PURCHASES

Board room video conferencing equipment has come down in price considerably in recent years. If purchasing equipment is the route you want to take, Chorus Call has years of experience in the field. We would be happy to provide you or your IT team an overview of options available at various price points.
